TELEGRAMS TO STANDARD.

By direct cables via Lisbon.

Madrid, 24th—Early in January there will be a conference of ex-Ministers, ex-Senators and ex-Deputies of the Conservative party, to decide on the course to be adopted by it.

Differences of opinion are expected. Castelar has declared that the Possibleists will support the Liberal if the latter carry out the economic programme they put forward while in Opposition.

London, 24th—The Home Rule Bill will be the first laid before Parliament when it meets; then the Budget, Electoral and some other political reforms.

The cotton industry is improving, as also trade in general all over the country.

The news of the hostile manifestation towards Chile in Buenos Ayres has caused some alarm in financial circles; but it could not be shown in quotations, as the Stock Exchange is closed to-day.

Berlin, 24th—The union of the Revolutionary Socialists and the Governmentalists at the recent Congress is having the effect of producing greater enthusiasm amongst the working classes for Socialism.

The Government will not dissolve the Reichstag no matter what may occur, as the Socialists would carry all before them at fresh elections.

Paris, 24th—There are rumours of a Boulangist plot to overturn the Government, but the authorities are on their guard.

London, 24th—The murderer Macrae, who killed a woman at Northampton has been sentenced to death.

A meeting will be held at the Mansion House to consider the farmers' complaints about increased freight charges on railways and canals.

Paris, 24th—The Deputies threw out the treaty with Switzerland and adjourned till January 10th. The rejection of the treaty was foreseen and has caused no sensation.

The Government efforts to prevent its rejection were useless. At the request of President Carnot the Cabinet did not make it a question of confidence, but the Premier threw the responsibility for the consequences on the Chamber. Switzerland will apply the general tariff to French products, and France the maximum to those of Switzerland.

Although the Chamber has adjourned, the Panama Committee will continue to sit, to finish the affair as soon as possible and allay public agitation.

New York, 24th—Monsignor Satolli, Papal Delegate, has been charged to restore sacerdotal rights to Monsignor MacLyn. This is considered as a fresh proof of the good will of the Holy See towards the United States.

(Per Havas Agency.)

Paris, 24th—The Senate has sanctioned the two twelfths of the Budget voted by the Deputies.

Parliament closed to-day.

(To the "Prensa".)

Paris, 23rd—President Carnot has declared that not a single person involved in the Panama Scandal shall escape trial.

The feeling on the Bourse is better.

The Deputies have ratified the commercial treaty with the United States.

London, 23rd—The Stock Exchange will be closed to-morrow, Christmas Eve.

Hamburg, 23rd—Two fresh cases of cholera to-day.

Vienna, 23rd—Cholera is spreading in the province of Lublin and great consternation prevails; the inhabitants are running away.

CHRISTMAS DAY.

We feel great pleasure in saluting our readers to-day and wishing them a happy Christmas. The condition of the country has greatly improved in the past twelve months, and we look forward with greater confidence to the future. To our Argentine friends we heartily wish an increase of prosperity, and hope that the good sense which they have shewn during the current year, in arriving at an amicable re-adjustment of their political affairs, may be a pledge of uninterrupted peace and progress.

There is much for us to be thankful for in the year now drawing to a close, especially in our having been spared a visitation of the terrible epidemic that has caused such havoc in Europe. On the whole Christmas comes to us this time full of blessings. There are yet some difficulties to be got over, finances to be organized, questions with other countries to be solved, but these are only troubles that a little foresight and moderation will suffice to arrange.

The anthem of to-day is "Peace on earth to men of good-will," and it is at the same time a blessing and a mandate for each of us and for the whole nation.

We take from the Southern Cross of yesterday the following salutation, which conveys our own ideas better than we could express them:—

"To all, irrespective of rank or station nationality, colour, politics or religion—we heartily wish "A Merry Christmas."

"For those that have passed away since reading our last Christmas greeting there is a prayer in our hearts and on our lips for their eternal repose; for those whose eyes have known tears of sorrow since then we have a deep brotherly sympathy; and for those little ones whose infant eyes shall see the first Christmas sun shining over God's world we have a hearty welcome.

"Do we forget our subscribers? Certainly not! We wish that each and all of them may live to see many happy returns of this Christmas Day. There are some amongst our subscribers in love—may they be married before next December. There are some of them in trouble—may they have light hearts before then. There are many, too, thank Good, neither in love nor in trouble—may they continue so.

"Finally, we heartily pray on the eve of the holy festival that God may bless Argentina, our adopted land, and guide her rulers in the ways of righteousness and truth."

THE QUESTION WITH THE CHILIAN MINISTER.

The great excitement which we have witnessed within the last two days, and which was caused by the publication of a pamphlet signed by Mr. Bianchi Tupper and the Chilian Minister, Mr. A. Guerrero, is subsiding, thanks to the letter published yesterday by Mr. Bianchi Tupper and the explanations given by Mr. Guerrero to our Foreign Affairs Minister. Before we proceed to summarise this letter, we may call the attention to the statement of Messrs. Tupper and Guerrero's expenses during the Chilian Revolution, a statement that has provoked the present storm here. This statement runs as follows:—

Referring to the statement and pamphlet in question (published by Peuser,) Mr. Bianchi Tupper has published a letter which we summarise as follows:—

To the Editor of the Nacion,

The pamphlet on the Civil War in Chile, which furnished food for your sensational article, was written, revised and circulated by me, exclusively by me. Mr. Guerrero had nothing to do with it. He did not even know of its existence. You are wrong, therefore, in associating the Minister's name with the pamphlet. The pamphlet, moreover, is not an official publication. I meant it for circulation amongst my more intimate friends and other persons in Chile with a view of shewing the part I took in the Chilian crisis last year. The pamphlet is mine. It is purely personal, private though not secret. In the very first page it is stated that although the confidential agents of the revolution were two (Mr. Guerrero and myself), still it merely deals with my acts. I wrote the pamphlet in Rio last year. I was Minister there at the time. Mr. Guerrero knew nothing of it. In page 14, speaking of the interception of correspondence, I state that I intercepted letters "from the day following my arrival in B. Ayres to the eve of my departure." Now Mr. Guerrrro arrived long after me and remained here when I left for Brazil, so that the interception of correspondence was going on before he came out. In page 15 I state that Mr. Guerrero was entrusted with a diplomatic charge. I did all the rest. I controlled the funds, paid the expenses, etc., and sent the accounts to him to sign for remittance to Chile. In the last month I left for Brazil and the funds were controlled by him, Mr. Guerrero signed the accounts because without his signature the Chilian Treasury would not have accepted them.

Now in regard to my raising forces in Argentine territory, I wish to say a few words in order to put things straight. My raising forces amounted to my organizing several committees of young men, unarmed, to try and dissuade the soldiers of the Camus Division from fighting for the Dictator. There was no violence there.

It is perfectly true that that T. Bianchi Tupper, agent of the Revolution, intercepted during several months the correspondence between Balmaceda and his agents abroad, and that I availed of the information thus obtained to further our cause. How can I be accused of violating Argentine laws? You seem to forget that there were a good many people in the Chilian Legation here; and does it not occur to you that amongst them there were two or three friendly towards the revolution? There is nothing astonishing in that. There were even relatives of Balmaceda who were against him. Practically I bribed in Chilian territory. I am not going to give the names of the persons I bribed. Here I may mention a significant circumstance: I found out that Vidal had bribed a telegraph clerk to obtain my despatches to Paris and Iquique. I shewed the manager a copy of one of my telegrams "found on the Minister's table."

VICTORIA CONVALESCENT HOME.

On Friday H. M. Chargé d'Affaires, Mr. G. Earl Welby paid a visit to the above institution, situate about two miles west of Lomas station. Although more than four years in existence the Home is not generally known to the British public, and this is much to be regretted, as the house is most commodious, the grounds are finely timbered, the place is within easy access of town, and the management is admirable. Add to this the charges for paying-guests are most reasonable, 3½ dollars for first-class and 1½ dollar (currency) for second-class. Free patients are also admitted on order from any of the Committee.

It is really an immense boon to the public of our community to be able to resort in the summer months to so delightful a retreat. The Home has all the comforts of a first-class hotel, or rather of an English country-house, and the neatness of the whole place reflects so much credit on Mrs. Carson that Mr Welby complimented her on the same. Nothing is wanting, for the guests have also the advantage of a well-selected library of 300 volumes, the gift of Mr. Jacobsen of our city.

Free from the noise and heat of the city the Home offers special attractions for young men in the commercial offices of Buenos Ayres who may obtain permission for a week's holiday. Under the shade of the lofty pines and sycamores that surround the house they can enjoy their repose much more than at Mar del Plata or any other place, and the charge of 10$ currency a week places it within the reach of all. The reception rooms and bed-chambers command delightful views in all directions, and the cuisine is admirable. A carriage plies twice a week, gratis, to convey guests to or from the Lomas station. The medical superintendence is in the experienced hands of Dr. Mackern.

If the Home were in the vicinity of any large city of the U. Kingdom it would always have thirty or forty guests, for which there is ample room. The advantages which it offers are not duly appreciated in Buenos Ayres, but this is not the fault of the Committee or the management. No other foreign community, nor even Argentines themselves, possess an institution of the same kind, and we should be glad to see its utility enjoy a wider scope. Perhaps it would be advisable to suppress the distinction between first-class and second-class patients and make a uniform charge of ten or twelve dollars a week.

MUNICIPAL REPORT.

The statistical returns of our city for November shew as follows:—

	No.	Per 1,000 Pop. yearly.
Births	1,917	41·8
Deaths	1,211	26·4
Increase	706	15·4

The birth-rate was very high, the death-rate under the average, the latter being about the same as in Paris.

The marriages were as follows:—

French	51
British	11
Germans	19
Various	59
Total	716

The nationality of the parents of children born was as follows:—

Argentine	217

Total	1,917

The temperature of the month averaged thus in Farenheit—

1st to 10th	57	65
11th to 20th	63	72
21st to 30th	63	81

The arrivals of immigrants during the month were 8,512, including 6,371 Italians.

The sales of house-property were as follows:—

By	Bought. $currency	Sold. $currency
Argentines	4,360,000	4,980,000
Italians	1,320,000	1,090,000
Spaniards	725,000	330,000
French	250,000	160,000
British	95,000	105,000

Various	850,000	1,005,000
Total	7,750,000	7,750,000

The purchases by all classes of foreigners, except British, were in excess of what they sold, and consequently Argentines sold much more than they bought.

A SUMMER HOLIDAY IN THE CORDOBA MOUNTAINS.

The writer of the "Argentine Switzerand" having received several enquiries for information about the prices of hotels, and the different advantages or disadvantages that the principal places on the Cordoba and North Western Line possess, it is best to give the public an epitome of the whole series of articles written under the heading of "The Argentine Switzerland."

No one can confidently tell another that he, or she, will be especially pleased with such-and-such a place for a holiday, because all tastes so widely differ, but the general British taste for a summer holiday in the country can be fairly well gauged.

Those who want plenty of society, latest fashions, large shops, sumptuous or elegant furniture, with Hotel Metropole 'chef de cuisine,' and highly trained waiters had better not come to the Province of Cordoba, nor for the matter of that any province in the Republic—they had better go to Mar del Plata or Montevideo, and pay for it from $7 a day and upwards.

But for those who want very pretty scenery and magnificently fine and dry healthy air, with plenty of bathing, riding, climbing, sketching painting, picnicking and such like invigorating country pastimes and pleasure, combined with scrupulously clean quarters and cooking, though at the same time plain and without the "swagger" of fashionable watering places, but such comforts as one could find in a quiet, pretty, English country-place, then to those can confidently be recommended certain lovely spots in the Cordoba mountains.

There are pratically four stopping places which have all been fully described, (and intending visitors should purchase the back numbers of the STANDARD containing them) as follows:—

Cosquin—Train fair $3.50. (See STANDARD, Sunday, Nov. 20th and Sunday, Nov. 27th.)

The Calera is a very small but pretty place at the entrance of the mountains (40 minutes from the Alta Cordoba Station by train). It has a good river and is very pretty all round. Accommodation very fair; price $3 a day. In fact a very pretty place to stop at, but not possessing the extent or grandeur of the other places.

Cosquin.—This is the pioneer summer resort of the Cordoba mountains, before the writer made known to the public the other places written about. This is the favourite resort for the "natives" and has two good Hotels that of Don Silenio Cordoba and Don Dermidio Cordoba, but that of Don Silenio called the "Hotel Cosquin" is much more to be recommended and possesses an English billiard table besides others. Price $5 to $7 per day. This village is in itself not attractive, but all around there are very pretty rides—the celebrated sugar loaf mountain, (pan de azucar) lying in front of the village—there are very pretty woods and a charming river with good bathing, but not many places for swimming—here can always be obtained plenty of horses and coaches.

Capilla del Monte—This spot is "par excellence" the "gem" of the Cordoba mountains, and puts Alta Gracia, Calera, Cosquin and Cruz del Eje, quite into the shade. The village 2,000 ft. above Cordoba and 1,000 above Alta Gracia, is in itself most beautiful (just what the others are not bar "La Calera perhaps), being situated amidst thousands of palms and thick woods, consisting of various kinds of pretty trees and wild flowers in profusion, one river running through the village and the other a mile and a half away. Here one has the highest and prettiest mountains rising immediately from the village—and splendid bathing—innumerable spots for pic-nics—plenty of horses; good, quiet excellent opportunities for those, who paint or sketch—and what English people will greatly appreciate, i.e. the absence of a native village. The train puts one within 4 minutes of the Restaurant and 7 minutes of the Hotel. Prices from $3 to $5 per day; children half price. Cow, goat, mare, and ass's milk always on hand—also good meat in constant supply.

Cruz del Eje—This quaint old settlement, the terminus of the Line will be described in the STANDARD next Sunday.

In conclusion, if any one has time, be or she, is advised to visit all of the four places—if not then by all means select "Capilla del Monte" before the others.

Any one wishing to engage quarters at any of the above mentioned resorts and also in the city of Cordoba will have immediate attention given and replies in English, Spanish, or French, giving full details on every point, by writing to.

BOIS-DURCI.

From a curious old song preserved in the Harlein manuscripts in the British museum, we learn that it was peculiarly lucky when Christmas Day fell on a Sunday and the reverse when it fell on a Saturday.

The decking of houses and churches with evergreens at Xmas springs from a period far anterior to Christianity; it is evident that the use of flowers and green boughs as a means of decoration is almost instinctive in human nature. The Jews employed them in their Feast of Tabernacles, the ancient Druids and other Celtic nations hung up the mistletoe and green branches of different kinds over their doors to propitiate the woodland sprites, and a similar usage prevailed in Rome

The burning of the yule log is an ancient ceremony, transmitted to us from our Scandinavian ancestors who at their feast of yual, at the winter solstice, used to kindle huge bonfires in honor of their god Thor. The mummers, or as they are styled in Scotland, the guisers or guizards, occupied a prominent place in the Christmas revels of the olden time. The term mummer is synonymous with maker, and is derived from the Danish, mumme or Dutch momme. The early christians, we are told, used on the Feast of the Circumcision or New Year's day to run about in masks in ridicule of the pagan superstitions.

The Christmas Carol is the most charming of all our customs: the first was sung by the angels on the plains of Bethlehem "Gloria in Excelsis." Milton alludes to it in his twelfth book of Paradise Lost.

As for the old English fare at Christmas, first and foremost came the Boar's head, on a golden dish heralded by a jubilant flourish of trumpets, we find mention of mince pies in 1596. In Herrick's time it was customary to set a watch upon the pies, on the night before Christmas, lest sweet-toothed thieves should lay fingers on them.

Plum pudding seems to have been called in olden times plum-porridge or plum-broth; the first mention I can find of it under its present name is in an old cookery book published in 1791 by a Mrs. Frazer who describes its concoction. It shared honours with porridge in Addison's time, however, for I find in the "Tatler" no man of the most rigid virtue gives offence by an excess of plum-pudding or porridge because they are the first parts of a dinner.

The Christmas tree is said to be traceable to the Saturnalia of the Romans and was not improbably first imported into Germany with the conquering legions of Drusus.

Boxing day receives its title because from the earliest times it was the custom to give presents on the day after Christmas.

Have any of your subscribers ever eaten langosta bread? I see among other uses which the Easterns make of those interesting insects, is drying them, grinding them into powder and making bread of the powder, which the Arabs appreciate greatly.

I hear from London and Paris that in fashionable hats there is a revolution, so different are they in shape and style to what they used to be when the hair was piled upon the top of the head. The bonnets have retrograded to the full crown and the curtain period. I have just had a peep at some treguires brought from Paris by the Orenoque for the Señora de B. Amongst other things she has several of the close-fitting Puritan like hoods that are now so much in favor for little girls; these are a decided improvement on the Granny bonnets which have reigned so triumphantly until recently. Rarely have little girls such opportunities of looking picturesque and dainty as they have now-a-days, so many quaint and becoming fashions for children have been revived or newly introduced. The Puritan hoods are most easily made at home of a very small amount of material, and keep in order well.

The rendezvous for the fashionable world not yet flown to summer pastures is decidedly the Skating Rink; there were several events during the week, and I regret to say a few slight accidents. It is surprising to see how popular this amusement has become with our Spanish American sisters, whose graceful forms never looked to greater advantage than pirouetting round and round. With English people skating on ice is an institution since the 12th century, when it was introduced into England from Holland, the home and birth-place of skating. Fitz Stephen, in his History of London, tells us that it was customary for the young men to fasten the leg-bones of animals under their feet by means of thonghs and slide along the ice pushing themselves by means of an iron shod pole. The iron age of skating was an immense stride in advance. Wheeled skates were in use in Holland as far back as 1770, but it is only since the introduction of the circular running roller skate invented by Plimpton of New York that speed and figure skating have become common on roller skates. Besides being a means of exercise taken under a fascinating form, roller-skating is a splendid introduction to ice skating.

THE PROTECTIONIST IDEA OF INDUSTRY.

The typical Protectionists, from McKinley down, all continually cry, "We must protect American industries;" but at the same time it is clear from their actions that they have no clear idea what industry is.

Industry consists of two factors, production and exchange, or selling of the things produced; and industry cannot thrive without both. If a farmer grows 10,000 bushels of corn, and needs only 1,000 for himself, family, and animals, and can't exchange or sell the other 9000, he might as well not have raised it. He can eat his corn, burn it for fuel, and make whiskey of it, but he can't clothe himself with corn husks, plow with corn stalks, or wear corn shoes. To get these other things he must sell or exchange his surplus 9,000 bushels; and he must be stupid who does not at once see that the greater facilities afforded for exchange the greater will be the opportunity for advantageous trade. A twenty per cent tariff tax may be considered the equivalent of a bad road; a fifty per cent of a broad river without facilities for crossing; while a hundred per cent duty, such as is levied on blankets, window glass, cotton ties, and the like, can only be properly compared to a band of robbers who strip the producer of nearly all he possesses.

Suppose the farmer finds he can sell his surplus corn to better advantage in England than at home? He makes the sale, and he wants things rather than money, and as many things are cheap in England, he concludes to take pay in hardware, woolen clothing, cotton ties, and other like articles, and starts for home. At New York he finds a custom-house officer who tells him he must give up more than one-half the value of the things taken in payment for his corn before he can take away the other half. Revenue was not the object of enacting the laws that authorise this; the object was to restrict trade. Carry out logically, and to the fullest extent, McKinley's views about industry, and you would find every man trying to produce a good deal, and to sell as little as possible.

There are more than one hundred trusts in the United states that could have no existence except for the high duties enacted to protect them. And yet the Republican party declares that it is opposed to trusts. But to what trusts are they opposed? How did the party vote? How did your representative in the fifty-first Congress vote?

Did he vote for the salt trust, protected and only made capable of existence by a duty of from 44 to 85 per cent?

Did he vote for the window glass trust, with a protection of from 120 to 135 per cent.?

Did he vote for the linseed-oil trust, with a protection of over 90 per cent?

Did he vote for the white-lead trust with a protection of 75 per cent,?

Did he vote for the starch trust, with a protection running from 40 to 115 per cent.?

And so of all the other trusts created by the tariff and especially by the MacKinley Bill. Look them up, and if you find that your representative voted for such an imposition of taxes, ask him to explain why he did so.—American Journal

A RUNAWAY ENGINE.

Casting a furtive look around, and discovering that the driver and firemen were some distance away, the machine joyously snorted and incontinently bolted in the direction of the fresh sea breezes of Valparaiso.

But there was fortunately another engine in Calera station at the time; and the fireman aboard this, having witnessed the unaccountable departure of Eugine No. 1, started in hot pursuit of the fugitive.

The fun soon became fast and furious. Mile after mile pursuer and pursued sped on, the former ever gaining upon the object of its chase. But a stern chase is proverbially a long one, and Quillota and La Cruz were shot by and San Pedro nearly reached, ere the fireman, at the imminent risk of his life, contrived to attach his engine to the runaway and arrest the further progress of both.

This occurred within a few minutes of the passing of the up passenger train. We don't like contemplating ghastly spectacles, even in imagination, and consequently refrain from dwelling upon what might have happened but for the presence of mind and pluck of the fireman; who, as he has only saved lives instead of inventing means for their destruction, will probably go unrewarded.

COSQUIN.

Cordoba, Dec. 21st.

Mr. Editor,

In your issue of Sunday, Dec. 18th, in the Editor's Table you state that your correspondent "Argentine Switzerland" has made a very serious blunder in stating that the hotel at Cosquin, managed by Dermidio Cordoba, would not be open this season. I beg to state I made no blunder whatever. When I wrote that section the hotel in question was not open, and I know, on undeniable authority, that the Palladini Bros., of Cordoba, were negotiating to run the hotel. At the eleventh hour the affair fell through. Then Don Dermidio decided to run it himself.

These are the facts, and I, consequently, made no blunder. The only blunder in all the sections of "The Argentine Switzerland" was about the San Roque Dam, and that information was given me by a railway official, who ought to have known better

Yours faithfully,
Argentine Switzerland.

OLD TIMES.

Buenos Ayres, Dec. 23.

Dear STANDARD,

Mine Host Watson is sadly missed with his mince-pies, plum-puddings and his famous Wedding cakes &c. Christmas times remind me of the good-old dinner we used to enjoy. One cannot find amongst all the grand Houses to-day anything to be compared with the nice dinners and breakfasts he used to make. If our old friend would only make an appearance and start some small place (with the number of English residents here now and the experience he has) he would do a good business.

P. Pudding.

SKYLARKS.

Dear STANDARD,

Of the 100 skylarks shipped only 20 arrived safely. Accompanied by Mr. Stuart Pennington, the Naturalist, I went this morning to the Estancia Rincon of Mr. Thomas Bell at Pereyra, where the skylarks were set free. They soared off into the ethereal blue, singing as they went. I think they have every chance of doing well.

Yours,
W. Samson.

CONGRESS.

THE SENATE.

The Upper House met at 4 p.m. and began with an extra credit for the Faculty of Medicine, which was voted.

The House rose at 6 p.m.

THE DEPUTIES.

The House met at 3.30, and threw out most of the changes made in the Taxes Bill by the Senate.

The House rose at 5.20 and held a secret sitting till 6 p.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Last year we groaned inwardly in wishing our readers, colleagues and adopted country a Merry Christmas. This year matters look so much improved that we are as full of inward merriment in wishing them the compliments of the season as the most rabid optimist could wish.

Christmas Tree, concert, turkey and plum-pudding for dinner and a general charitable flare up at the Tigre Hotel to-day and to-night.

The Chilian Minister had a long confabulation with Dr. Anchorena, Minister of Foreign Affairs, yesterday, and the chances are that he will resign his post and thus settle for the moment the whole pow-wow-wow.

The crowd of pretty dames and damsels and ugly dudes in Calle Florida last night was a caution to philosophers. Such flirting, chattering, giggling, ogleing etc. we have not seen for a year of Sundays.

General Donovan, Governor of the Chaco, has asked the Minister of the Interior to have Judge Parodie examined by doctors, as he believes him to be cracked.

There are two splendid performances at the circus in the Politeama to-day, one at 2½ p.m. and the other at night. The programmes are marvels.

The rumoured purchase of Mauser rifles by Paraguay and her alliance with Chile is officially contradicted by the Paraguayan Minister of Foreign Affairs, Señor Decoud, who says that the republic has bought no rifles nor made any alliance, and that the whole story is moonshine.

Is Mr. Tupper, who has published his book on the Chilian revolution a relative of the renowned author of Proverbial Philosophy? We pause for a reply.

There is a grand "funcion" to-day at the Novedades Theatre in aid of a new Spanish paper, "El Correo de Andalucia" which will shortly enter the Editorial Bus.

The heat was awful yesterday; so much so that an old subscriber who came to pay us twenty years in advance, walked out without his hat, then came back for it and put on ours by mistake, and would have gone off with it but for its being too big for him and going down to his chin, which awakened him to the fact that there was something batically wrong.

There will be Special Christmas services to-day in the Scotch Church.

The tremendous Chilian question of Friday fizzled away yesterday into the usual "abrazo con efusion." The Chilian Minister gave the most mellifluous diplomatic explanations, "y, asunto concluido." So best. Merry Christmas to everybody concerned.

Our sporting editor absolutely refuses to give any tips for to-day's races at Belgrano. His reason is the "Carta de Catedraticos." He suggests to lovers of sport to follow the winning studs.

The suicide of the Vice-Lord Mayor of Montevideo, Mr. Aguiar, has caused a very painful sensation down there. Monetary trouble caused the sad deed.

The following are the principal prizes drawn in the Montevideo Lottery yesterday:—No. 10821 $10,000; 14478, 500; 1271, 13380, 200 each; 10210, 14279, 6714, 6555, 5247, 7094, 5512, and 10218, 100 each.

The Southern Cross says:

"It will be a surprise to many that a cardinal's hat has been offered to the Archbishop of Armagh, Dr. Logue, and that Dr. Walshe, Archbishop of Dublin, has been passed over in the distribution of papal honours. Dr. Logue is about 54 years of age. He studied with high honours in Maynooth College, was professor of theology in the Irish College, Paris. On the death of Dr. McDevitt, Bishop of Raphoe, in 1879, was nominated his successor and consecrated bishop. In 1887 he was appointed Coadjutor-Bishop to Dr. McGettigan' Primate of All Ireland, and succeeded to the primacy in the the December following. Dr. Logue is a man of exceedingly dark complexion, and profoundly versed in theological lore. He took but a small part in the stirring events, social and political, which have convulsed Ireland during the past few years.

Our highly esteemed colleague Mr. Lamoreux, of the Rio News, when bidding us good-bye the other day said that he had to hurry back to Rio, as he "could not stand the heat in Buenos Ayres!" He said it quite seriously. Use is second nature. A person accustomed to the fire is not comfortable in the frying pan.

The Wise Men of the Town voted the taxes for next year on Friday with a whacking deficit. The Lord Mayor has put in a veto, as he says he cannot rule the city if left short of cash.

The Vice-President of the Republic kept clear of all the tow-row-row about Chile on Friday night and went to the Chicago Show, to enjoy himself, with Senator Igarzabal. His Excellency went all over the place and seemed much pleased with everything. The next thing at the show will be a charitable fete to be got up by several distinguished ladies.

The late Duke of Marlborough was at one time very much bored by the sounds of a concertina on which a brother officer used to practise in the quarters adjoining his in barracks. A happy inspiration seized the Duke, then Lord Blandford—to take up and practice the kettledrum, at which he laboured diligently and defied his musical aggressor. I remember (adds the correspondent) his falling in with the band of the 85th on board ship going out to India in 1868, and playing the kettledrum exceedingly well. It is stated that the Duke insured his life for a million dollars in favour of his widow, in recognition of the large sums she spent upon Blenheim.

This will be a hot day for the pigeons at Vicente Lopez, where the Gran Premio de Buenos Ayres will be shot for, in spite of all the Zoos that ever were born. The pigeons like it.

The "Hylam Seal" is what the Montevidean papers call that splendid steamer the Highland Scot. This is enough to wither all the thistles in the land of porridge and haggis.

Governor Pizarro has been kind enough to let the world know that the next time he resigns he intends to mean it.

There will be a sickening sense of the mutability of human affairs among the European shareholders of the Uruguay French Gold Mining Company when they learn that Mr. Clement Barrial Posada has brought an action to recover the whole property, with $2,400,000 gold for damages.

The M. V. Times is justly rough on President Herrera and his Government for taking no notice of the funeral of the late Don Juan Jackson. It says:—

"Certainly Don Juan was not altogether a "persona grata" in Government circles, his political opinions not being favourable to the present holders of office, whilst his powerful influence as President of the Commercial Bank was invariably employed against the financial madness and trickeries of Government and the scandals of its National Bank. For all that, we think, in ordinary decency, Goverment might have taken some official notice of the burial of a great citizen whose name will occupy a much more honorable place in the history of Uruguay than that of any statesman now in power."

"My son led his class at college in political economy," said farmer Jones, "and next year he will spend on my farm, taking a few practical lessons in personal economy."

The New York Herald is responsible for the following statement: "We are informed upon excellent authority that the Boston Globe sold on Wednesday (the day following the election) 627,000 copies. The New York World on the day following the election sold, inclusive of morning and evening editions, 597,390 copies."

Mrs. Michael Mulhall thankfully acknowledges the sum of 100$ currency, annual subscription from Mrs Dr. Hanly to the Boys' Orphanage: also a collection of illustrated papers and other things from Professor Martin.

The STANDARD museum was enriched yesterday by a present from an old and valued friend, the Christmas Number of the Illustrated Londou News of 50 years ago, A. D. 1842. The world has since gone through many changes, and the Illustrated London News, then in its infancy, has risen to great importance.

The latest about the Lozardi murder is that the suspected murderer, Juan Carlos Loaardi, is now in high spirits and certain that he is going to get off scot free. Another dreadful crime is reported at Paganini station, where an Italian assaulted a girl of 17, and gave her six ferocious stabs from which she will probably die.

The Progreso Club is in a patriotic flutter about the Chilian affair, and fifty of its most influential members have called on the Committee to expel Mr. Guerrero, the Chilian Minister.

We again call attention to the raffle of the unsold articles at the Escudos stall of the Quilmes Bazaar. Tickets only one dollar each, and some of the prizes are well worth $100 or more. Every ticket takes a prize.

The show of Christmas and New Year's Gifts at the famous "Ciudad de Catedraticos." "tienda" this year is really wonderful and superb, and a stroll through the vast saloons is a treat. There are articles to suit the humblest as well as the most plethoric purses, and some of the mechanical toys are marvels of inventive ingenuity.

Of all the laughable and audacious liberties as yet taken with the Spanish language in England and the United States the following is by far the worst specimen we have seen. The ineffable cheek of the writer, who evidently wishes to convey the impression that he is a perfect master of the Spanish tongue, is sublime. Or can it be that he (or she) is merely laughing in the face of English-speaking readers, whose invincible ignorance (as a rule) of all foreign languages is a matter of history, unfortunately? Just read this, and you can dispense with seeing for $32,000, do house 2576 Arenales, 9x21, for $5,900, do house 917 Estados Unidos, 9x26, for $11,000.

The Provincial Bank, which is in Moratorium and in liquidation, has stopped payment and holds 70,000,000 of the people's deposits, has paid to the National Government 28,000 nats as tax on its deposits for last year; we know of nothing more unjust or more improper, since those 28,000 dollars should of right be paid to some of the poor people whose earnings are locked up in the concern.

The opening of the iron safes of the smashed-up Clearing House Bank has resulted in the disclosure of still further frauds in this most disreputable concern. The Judge and the blacksmith who witnessed the operation were at first agreeably surprised on seeing neatly tied up packages of the ordinary dimensions of Provincial Cedulas; here, thought the Judge, are valuable assets to meet the claims of confiding widows who trusted and were deceived. The blacksmith forced the locks and opened the doors and the Judge took up the piles of deposited assets and at once proceeded to make an inventory; everything in the safe seemed to be in apple-pie order, endorsed, labelled and neatly tied were the piles of deposited stocks. Before the spreading doors of the iron safe the city smith stood with large and sinewy hands, his brow was wet with honest sweat breaking the Chubb locks of the ponderous safes, and you could hear him swing his heavy sledge down along the street, and the brokers coming back from the ring looked in at the open door and paused at the melancholy sight; the Judge dumbfounded on discovering that the piles of assets stored in the safes turned out to be nothing else but old newspapers and bulletins. Toiling, rejoicing, sorrowing, the crowd of brokers passed along, something was attempted, something done that earned a night's repose in the "policia." The lesson which the concern has taught is a serious one, and the wretched assets were scattered like chaff from the banking door.

The La Plata Senate Committee has reported on the Banco Hipotecario reform bill, eliminating the four years' moratorium clause, allowing debtors to pay off in cedulas, bonos, or coupons, except the commission, which must be paid in cash; allowing the mortgage bank to liquidate its account with the Provincial Bank in bonos; prohibiting the mortgage bank from charging fines for non-payment of interest; authorising the bank to make the best arrangement possible for overdue service on the cedulas they owe; ordering that all money received by the bank for commission shall be used exclusively in payment of the bank's expenses, and finally that the Contribucion Directa on all mortgage properties be assessed, not on the value of the properties when mortgaged but when sold.

The most important features in this new law are the abolition of the moratorium, the emission of 14,000,000 of bonos to pay the Provincial Bank, and the reduction of the Contribucion Directa

On the night of the 24th inst., at 10 p.m., a special express bed train will start from Constitucion for Mar del Plata; this shows good management, as the crowds leaving by the ordinary night train at 8.30 are greater than it can accommodate. The Bristol Hotel is nearly full and there is life and movement in Mar del Plata again.

There is very seldom smoke without fire; it turns out now the Paraguayans have bought 10,000 Mauser rifles, but what is denied is that the Chilians have guaranteed the payment. It is very possible that the extraordinarily heavy import tax which Congress is putting on Paraguayan tobacco next year has chilled the friendly relations between the two countries, and there may be some relationship between the tobacco, the rifles and the tax.

The new bridge over the River Sali has at last been finished by the Fives Lille Company, who ask the Government to return to them the eighty thousand cedulas deposited at guarantee.

Messrs. A. Bullrich and Co. sold at auction in Plaza Constitucion 6000 kilos of wool from the Cabaña Rivadavia of Mr. Meyer in Marcos Paz, at 6$ for rams' wool, 7.30$ for Borrega, and 3.40$ for bellies.

Mrs. Margaret M. Morgan has sold the wools from her estancias in San Antonio de Areco to Mr. Juan Caso: price reserved. This parcel comprises about fifty thousand kilos, and Messrs. Devoto, Balbiani and Co. expect the consignment at the Central Produce Market next week. Mrs. Morgan has sold at the right moment.

Messrs. Desplaugues bought to-day at auction in the Mercado Central from Messrs. Bullrich and Co., 13,000 kilos of fine wool from the province of Entre Rios at $8.10 ⅝ per 10 kilos.

We see by papers from the Mount that 250 steers, 400 mules, and 500 wethers are being shipped to the Rio Market: it appears that a syndicate has the business in hand.

The rise in gold imparted fresh activity to the wool market this morning: prices did not improve, but business was much more active.

Paper Money.

Projectors every now and then start up with plans for curing all the economical evils of society by means of an unlimited issue of inconvertible paper. There is, in truth, a great charm in the idea. To be able to defray the expenses of government without taxation, and, in fine, to make the fortune of the whole community, is a brilliant prospect, when once a man is capable of believing that printing a few characters on bits of paper will do it. The philosopher's stone could not be expected to do more.

The substitution of Paper for metallic currency is a national gain: any further increase of Paper beyond this is but a form of robbery.—John Stuart Mill on Inconvertible Paper Currency.

Paper Money properly means paper made legal tender, and not legally convertible into gold, or anything else, at the pleasure of the holders, or at any given period. No part whatever of the value of such paper money is derived from confidense. It circulates because it is made legal tender, and because the use of a circulating medium is indispensable; and its velue, supposing the demand to be constant, is in all cases inversely as the quantity in circulation.—

BAKING POWDER

BARON LIEBIG, the world-renowned chemist said, "I have though a great series of experiments, satisfied myself of the purity and excellence of your preparation. The bread has no acid, is easily digested, and of the best taste. Aside from the conveniences this invaluable idea of yours has provided, I consider this invention as one of the most useful gifts which science has made to mankind! It is certain that the nutritive value of the flour will be increased 10 per cent by your invention, and the result is precisely the same as if the fertility of our wheatfields had been increased by that amount.
What a wonderful result is this!"
